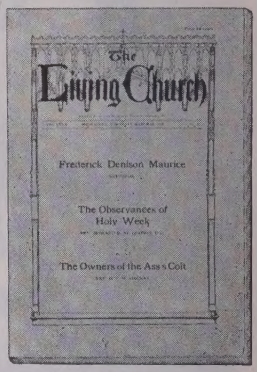
READ A CHURCH PAPER

EVERY Church family should subscribe to one or more of the general Church periodicals, in addition to its own diocesan paper, since only by the regular reading of one of the Church weeklies can one keep in touch with the multitudinous activities of the Church at home and abroad, and avoid that narrowness of outlook known as parochialism, which is one of the greatest factors in holding back the extensive work of the Church.



The Living Church

A weekly record of the news and the thought of the Episcopal Church. Not partisan or sectarian in its outlook, it endeavors in its editorial and general policy to present the current problems of the Church in a clear and forceful manner, not expecting all Churchmen to agree with its views, but presenting the facts and offering such comments and suggestions as seem to be for the best interests of the Church.

Foreword

In sending forth the fifth issue of Stowe's Clerical Directory of The American Church, the publisher wishes to express the most sincere appreciation of the assistance and encouragement received from those clergymen who so kindly and readily responded to the circular which was mailed to every clergyman in the church, throughout the entire world. Here mention must be made of the surprising fact that a very small percentage of the circulars, sent out, were returned as unclaimed or as having incorrect address. Much credit is due The Living Church Annual, which publication the publisher of the Directory finds a most dependable aid.

It seems to be quite impossible to secure data and complete the publishing of the Directory in a shorter space of time than seven to eight months. To the subscribers, who have shown so much consideration in patiently awaiting a copy of the Directory, grateful thanks are extended.

The Asterisk, which is placed at the end of some of the sketches, indicates that the sketch is NOT revised or supplied by the individual. As it was impossible to locate some of the clergymen and no response was received from others, after repeated requests, the publisher has revised or compiled the data from information gathered from various sources. In some cases, where the star follows the data of a recently ordained deacon, there was not sufficient time in which to receive a reply from the clergyman, before the printing of the Directory.

May the sincere efforts of the publisher to edit a dependable and satisfactory book not fall too far short of the anticipations of all interested persons, depending upon the value of the 1929-30 edition of the Directory.

In the case of all abbreviations not here listed, the commonly used shortening of the word is used in this book or such shortened form as clearly indicates the word, the place of which it takes.
